SAS Bécot is now also taking over the sale and distribution of WANGEN pumps and WANGEN original spare parts for the biogas sector in France, replacing AGRIEST. The company, which is based in Saint Barthélemy d'Anjou, in the north-west of France, already operates as the WANGEN sales partner for the industrial and food sectors. Pumpenfabrik Wangen GmbH and AGRIEST mutually agreed to terminate their cooperation as of 1 March 2021.

WANGEN PUMPEN supplies an extensive range of reliable and hard-wearing pumps, which perfectly meet the requirements of biogas systems. As a German pump manufacturer, with over 50 years of expertise and experience, the company would like to continue firmly establishing itself in the biogas sector in France.

“We are very pleased that Bécot will now also be focusing on the future of the fast-growing biogas market in France on behalf of our company. Our excellent long-standing collaboration in the industrial and hygiene sectors has demonstrated to us that Bécot supports and represents us very well in France with its knowledge and expertise,” comments Claus Garnjost, CEO Pumpenfabrik Wangen GmbH. Eduard Weiss, Regional Sales Manager, also emphasises: “I look forward to a positive and intensive collaboration and the installation of many WANGEN pumps in French biogas plants.”
